Hello Nathan,

It's Jennifer Thomas, journalist, journalism professor at Howard University, and Howard sorority sister of Kamala Harris.

Howard University News Service (HUNS) covered the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia, and had the opportunity to attend Ms. Harris' breakfast on Thursday. I'm sharing the link to the article below.

HUNS is comprised of journalism students who are advised by professors- all of whom have had extensive industry experience. (I'm a veteran journalist- most recently as an executive producer with CNN.)

We would appreciate if you would include our news service on any upcoming events/press releases etc. as the November election approaches-- particularly any events that may take place in Washington, D.C. You may use my email address: jennifer.thomas@howard.edu.

Please extend my best wishes to Soror Kamala and share the article. We look forward to working with the campaign in the coming months.

All best,
Jennifer
