Academic Newsletter: “Howard Alumni and Friends Gather to Honor Dr. Lawrence Kaggwa” The Standard: Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication (AEJMC) Commission on the Status of Minorities | Summer 2015: pg 6. (sole author)

Impact:

The Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication (AEJMC) is a nonprofit organization of more than 3,700 educators, students and practitioners from around the globe. "AEJMC is the oldest and largest alliance of journalism and mass communication educators and administrators at the college level. Its mission is to promote the highest possible standards for journalism and mass communication education, to encourage the widest possible range of communication research, to encourage the implementation of a multi-cultural society in the classroom and curriculum, and to defend and maintain freedom of communication in an effort to achieve better professional practice, a better informed public, and wider human understanding." <http://www.aejmc.org/home/about/>

The Commission on the Status of Minorities "Investigates and proposes ways to achieve racial and cultural diversity in journalism/communication programs and curriculum." <http://www.aejmc.org/home/about/groups/commissions/>
